

Key Stage 1

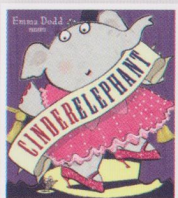

Sir Scallywag and the Golden Underpants Giles Andreae

A delightful picture book about an unlikely hero, Sir Scallywag, and his quest to find King Colin's missing underpants. A joy to share with highly entertaining rhyming text and quirky illustrations to pore over.

First Week at Cow School Andy Cutbill

A hilarious story, shortlisted for the Roald Dahl Funny Prize, with bright, expressive pictures to talk about.

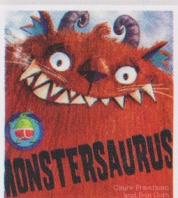

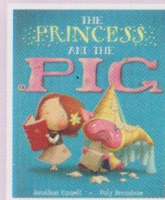

Cinderelphant Emma Dodd

Amusing re-telling of the Cinderella story, with an over-sized heroine. Great fun with illustrations that really bring the story to life.

Princess and the Pig Jonathan Emmett

A fairy tale mix-up with an amusing twist at the end. An inventive story that will appeal to both adult and child.

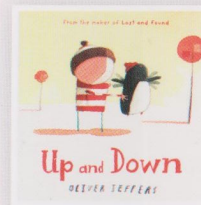

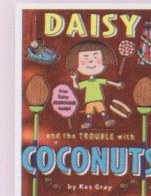

Monstersaurus Claire Freedman

Funny story with a rollicking rhyme. Lots of slime and goo to appeal to a child's sense of humour.

Daisy and the Trouble with Coconuts Kes Gray

Very funny story told through the eyes of the eccentric but endearing Daisy. It will make adults, as well as children, chuckle.

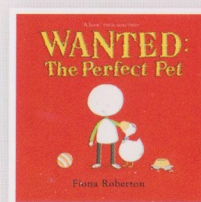

Up and down Oliver Jeffers

A thoughtful story about a little boy who tries to help his friend Penguin learn to fly. A gentle, reassuring read about friendship, ideal for the end of the day.

Pirate! Alan MacDonald

Three funny stories about Dirty Bertie – "the boy with the nose-pickingly disgusting habits". Full of the revolting silliness that young children love!

Wanted: the Perfect Pet Fiona Robertson

A little duck pretends that he is a dog so that a boy will want him for a pet. A charming story with very amusing illustrations.

The Diggers are Coming Susan Steggall

Follow everyone involved in building a house from digging the foundations to tiling the roof, until the families finally move in. A rhyming text with lots of sounds for children to imitate. Wonderful collage illustrations.
