

Lower Key Stage 2

No 1 Car Spotter and the Firebird

Atinuke

Very clever short stories, set in Africa, that offer children an insight into another culture.

Clone Chaos

Simon Bartram

Fourth adventure of Bob, the Man on the Moon, and his extra special dog, Barry. The funny antics, descriptive language and exotic lunar locations of this short chapter book make it ideal for sharing.

Tom Trueheart and the Land of Myths and Legends

Ian Beck

A longer story, in manageable chapters, in which a young boy travels to the Land of Myths and Legends to rescue his father. An exciting plot, with lots of twists, ensures the eager anticipation of each new chapter.

Circus Act

Andrew Cope

Adventure about spy pups, Spud and Star, and their attempt to foil a gang of thieves. Appealing doggy characters and a fast-paced plot will leave readers wanting to read other books in the series.

Pirates Next Door

Johnny Duddle

The Jolley-Rogers pirate family move to Dull-on-Sea while their ship is repaired – much to the consternation of the town's residents. Another contender for the Roald Dahl Funny Prize, with a jolly rhyming text and marvellously detailed illustrations.

Pillywiggins and the Tree Witch

Julia Jarman

Magical story about a little girl who sets out to rescue a fairy who has been turned to stone. A well-written adventure read, suitable for both boys and girls.

I Don't Believe it Archie

Andrew Norriss

The book follows a week in the life of Archie, for whom bizarre occurrences happen every day. Perfect for reading a different story each day. Extremely funny with many laugh out loud moments.

Emergency!

Jeremy Strong

Three short stories featuring Casper, aka the Cartoon Kid, and his 'superhero' friends. Very funny stories with cartoon-strip style illustrations that add to the appeal.

Who Ate Auntie Iris?

Sean Taylor

A young chinchilla worries that one of the neighbours has eaten his Auntie and sets out to investigate. A fun picture book for older readers with delightfully detailed illustrations.

Dreadful Dragon

Kaye Umansky

A hopeless young wizard decides to conjure up a pet dragon to impress his friends. Very funny, quirky tale with short chapters – perfect for sharing.
